WASHINGTON, June 10.—The special session of the Seventy-third Congress drew rapidly toward a close today, with administration leaders in both houses planning a sine die adjournment tonight.

Its exit from the stage promised to be almost as dramatic as its hurried convocation, when economic chaos reigned. It was being nudged out of existence by tremendous pressure from the white house.

Whip Is Used
"The whip is being used," Senator Reed (R) of Pennsylvania declared on the floor.

Although leaders of both parties were informed bluntly by high administration officials that the president wanted congress out of the way before the opening of the world economic conference in London, no resentment at being booted from the capital was shown.

If you lie to some pleasure resort for a vacation period—it seems to be here—don't fail to notify post office officials to change your address. Give them the forwarding location and the letters will reach you as at your home. And, just to keep informed, you'd better let The News follow you as you make those trips.

City playgrounds, although no supervisors are in charge, continue to be the recreation center of the town. Neighborhood groups have grown up around them and just consider it a part of their vacation life.

When out driving over Sunday, be careful.

A day like Friday tries most anyone, but, together with the mill workers, the city letter carriers find it almost unbearable. Two or more trips they make over hot sidewalks, a heavy bag weighing down their back. Yet Pa News didn't find one who wasn't smiling when he joked about the heat yesterday.

At the close of one more week New Castle's business and industrial horizon looks even brighter than before. Mills here and there have shown encouraging gains, and, while the general feeling is not to shout it from the housetops, the future gives promise of a continued march toward improvement.

YOUTH SEIZED, DENIES SLAYING OF MOTHER

This is the first picture since his arrest of Balfie MacDonald, 17, Flint, Mich., youth sought for questioning in connection with the death of his mother, Mrs. Grace MacDonald, wealthy widow, found beaten to death in her Flint home. Balfie is shown here at Nashville, Tenn., where he was picked up on an extortion charge, being questioned by Elkin Lewis, Nashville, chief of detectives. Nashville police declare that William Terwilliger, MacDonald's companion, told them that Balfie admitted beating his mother to death. This the youth has continued to emphatically deny.

SHOWING PROFIT FOR PRODUCTION

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, June 10.—Wages of steel workers of practically all major companies of the nation will be raised, probably 10 per cent, on July 1 or shortly thereafter, unless provisions of the administrator's industry control bill vary considerably from expectations, a Pittsburgh steel executive who refused use of his name, told International News Service today.

Steel leaders are to meet in New York within a week or two, the informant said, to discuss the control legislation now pending in congressional conference.

Fifty Per Cent
Upon the outcome of that conference will depend whether wages will be increased at this time. All present indications point to the boost, he added.

The executive refused to discuss what eventualities might arise to bring about a postponement of the present tentative plans.

Steel production has been mounting rapidly since the bank holiday in March and at present stands almost at fifty per cent, high enough to return a profit, for the first time in many months.

The first large group of scouts will go to camp on June 17, it was stated.

BELIEVE MATTERN READY FOR OCEAN HOP TO NOME

(International News Service)
MOSCOW, June 10.—Headed toward the starting point of the most hazardous leg of his round-the-world flight, James Mattern, Texas airman, was believed speeding over Eastern Siberia today.
Mattern took off from Belya, 75 miles north of Irkutsk, at 6:50 p. m. E. D. T. Friday and was sighted 55 minutes later over Irkutsk. Information from Belya some time after the take-off indicated he planned to make his next stop at Chita, 450 miles eastward.

Absence of word of his arrival at Chita, however, gave rise to belief that Mattern, anxious to make up for lost time, might have headed direct for Khabarovsk, a jump of 1,400 miles from Irkutsk.

From Khabarovsk, Mattern will attempt his dangerous 2,100 mile jump across the sea of Okhotsk and the Bering Sea to Nome, Alaska.

Tremendous Power Given To Roosevelt

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, June 10.—President Roosevelt was armed today with the greatest peacetime powers ever conferred by Congress on an administration executive to restore prosperity to the nation.

The President was empowered to inflate the currency, stabilize farm prices, control farm production, operate Muscle Shoals, slash federal expenditures, regulate the sale of securities, reorganize government activities, cut veterans' relief, provide credit for home owners and finally to suspend gold payments of all government obligations.

By nightfall he probably will gain the additional authority to regulate American industry and start a $3,300,000,000 public works program.

Wheat Futures Reach Highest Since Year 1930

(International News Service)
CHICAGO, June 10.—Wheat futures reached the best level since 1930 at 193 here today under active buying that sent prices up about 2c.

Bullish crops news and the advance in Sterling against the American dollar brought in extensive buying orders with the public participating on a liberal scale.

At the close prices were practically 1 1/4c higher and oats 1 1/4c up. Corn was 1/4c to 3/8c advanced and rye 1/4c to 3/8c higher.

Wheat and oats displayed strength throughout the session. Heavy profit-taking developed shortly before the close and prices reacted moderately from the top, but quickly recovered as new buying orders were worked.

NORTH ARLINGTON, N. J., June 10.—Nine known dead, two missing—and feared to be dead—and 180 injured, some critically, was the steadily mounting toll today of the explosion which wrecked the plant of the Atlantic Pyroloxin Waste company last night and set fire to seven nearby houses and a garage.

Congress Tonight Started
In House

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, June 10.—Congress will wreck the world economic conference opening in London Monday unless it adjourns, Rep. Byrns of Tennessee, Democratic leader declared in the house as the revolt against adjournment was threatened.

Several members rose with demands that congress defeat adjournment until the Glass-Steagall bank deposits guarantee bill, now deadlocked in conference, is passed.

Bill To Aid Home Owners Only Awaits President's Action

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, June 10.—The individual home owner has three chances to obtain aid from the government in refinancing his mortgage under the home owners loan bill which went to the White House today. They are:

1. He can persuade the person who holds his mortgage to exchange it for bonds of the home owners' loan corporation created by the bill. The interest on the bonds, which shall not exceed 4 per cent, is guaranteed by the government.

This exchange can only be made, however, on homes appraised at $20,000 or less and the bonds can not exceed 80 per cent of the value of the property, or $14,000 whichever is smaller.

The government corporation then carries the mortgage as a first lien on the property or refinances as a home mortgage. The home owner would be given 15 years in which to retire the mortgage on monthly payments, at an interest rate not over 5 per cent.

UNFILLED STEEL ORDERS SHOW 65,241 TONS RISE

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, June 10.—Unfilled orders on the books of U. S. Steel Corporation on May 31 rose 65,241 tons from the April 30 backlog to 1,929,815 tons, Myron C. Taylor, chairman, announced at noon today.

This was the second consecutive rise in the corporation's unfilled tonnage, a smaller gain having occurred in April, and was in line with Wall Street estimates early in the week.

The gain came in the face of a sharp increase in the industry's operations. The nation's steel mills are currently running around 44 per cent of capacity, a gain of more than 300 per cent in little more than two months.

The May 31 total compares with 1,864,574 tons on April 30, 1,841,002 tons on March 31, 1,854,200 tons on February 28 and 2,177,102 tons on May 31, 1932.

The rise in unfilled orders last month was contrary to the usual seasonal trend, May normally showing a decline in tonnage. This paralleled the unseasonal rise in operations the industry has been experiencing, as steel in the past has normally experienced a summer lull, starting at the end of May and running into July.

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, June 10.—Carrying a newly inserted provision for complete publicity of all federal income tax returns and an amendment removing the tax exemption from federal, state and municipal bonds, the industrial control and $3,300,000,000 Public Works bill was sent to conference today.

The senate approved the bill 56 to 24 at the end of a grueling 13-hour session lasting till eleven o'clock last night.

Sales Tax Defeated
It voted down 57 to 28 a one and three-fourths per cent general manufacturers' sales tax offered by Senators Reed (R) of Pennsylvania, Walsh (D) of Massachusetts and Byrd (D) of Virginia. It retained the increased corporation and gasoline tax levies approved by the senate finance committee.

The income tax publicity amendment was offered by Senator La Follette (R) of Wisconsin.

Delegates Are Quite Cautious About Policies

London Conference Opening

LONDON, June 10.—Assembling for the opening of the World Economic Conference on Monday, players in what promises to be the world's greatest poker game poured into London today, each carefully concealing his cards.

From all quarters of the globe they came, but each delegation carefully withheld its hand until it could glimpse the cards held by the others.

Mutual Caution
The atmosphere of mutual caution will be fully revealed when the conference is opened in a series of speeches by the principal delegates, which are expected to consume the greater part of the first week. So far more is known about the American position than about the aims of any other country.

The Americans are willing to support horizontal tariff reduction and establishment of a silver ration against gold on a world basis. But they are not revealing details of their plans until Secretary of State Cordell Hull makes his initial speech which is expected early in the conference.

Not Optimistic
It would be inaccurate to say on the eve of the conference that any delegation is showing any great optimism over the chances for its success.

The Americans are hopeful rather than optimistic, largely because everybody is looking for concessions from the other fellow but is exceedingly chary of making any concessions.

Headlines in the London morning papers asserting "The Americans have no program" slightly annoyed members of the United States delegation. (Continued On Page Two)

HUNTSVILLE, Tenn., June 10.—Averagers of a murdered sheriff were blamed today for the lynching of Harvey Winchester, 23, and Jerome Boyett, 22, who were taken from the Scott county jail by 20 armed men and shot to death.

Poses found the bullet-riddled bodies of both men in a woods three miles from town.

Boyett was being held for the murder of Sheriff G. B. Winchester and his son, Floyd, of Pickett county. Winchester was accused of slaying two men near Winfield.

The winter worn fedora is resting on its oars, and in the closet's darkened nook, in peace it loudly snores, for straw hats are in fashion, the leghorns and the sennets, and felt hats are outmoded now, the custom is again it. And in the shops where straws are sold, the male is much beset, should he wear bang-koks for a time, they're rather neat and yet, the panama is quite the thing, and not much more to say, but one must have a straw hat now, it's ninety three today.

ENGLAND OFFERS INSTALMENT ON DEBT

Britain Offers "Token" Payment

Would Pay United States $10,000,000 As June Installment On Debt

AWAIT ANSWER FROM ROOSEVELT

(International News Service) LONDON, June 10.—Britain's government today fixed its last, lingering hopes of "hurdling" the June 15 debt installment owed America on possible acceptance of a $10,000,000 "token" payment proposal by President Roosevelt.

A note outlining the conditional proposal was sent to Washington yesterday, offering the payment as a contribution toward a final settlement so that Britain might avoid making a default on the installment. Trusting aside virtually all thought of the world economic conference which opens Monday, British officials waited anxiously for some indication of how the proposal will be received.

Roosevelt Considers Offer Washington, June 10.—President Roosevelt has under consideration today a verbal offer from the British government confidently believed to be a proposal for part payment of the British debt installment due on June 15.

The offer was made by Sir Ronald Lindsay, the British ambassador, during a call at the White House last night. He was authorized to make the offer by the British cabinet.

Hold Conferences. He and his associates spent most of the day conferring with delegates from other nations, mostly relative to the structure and procedure of the parley. They were insistent upon speed, and to that end favor morning, afternoon and night sessions, if necessary.

King George will open the conference Monday and will be followed by Prime Minister MacDonald, who will not, however, reveal the British position.

That will be left to Chancellor of the Exchequer Neville Chamberlain as head of the British delegation.

Polishing Speeches. R. W. Morrison acted as spokesman for the American delegation this morning and said that Washington has yet reached no decision on any definite stabilization point between the dollar and pound.

Hull spent much of the day working on the speech he will deliver before the conference and conferring with various members of the American group, including James M. Cox, who has just arrived.

MacDonald is spending the weekend in Chequers polishing his speech and the heads of other delegations are similarly occupied.

Many Deaths. The Pittsburgh and Philadelphia district still divided the state's deaths as the middle section of the state remained devoid of fatalities. In the Philadelphia district, seven persons succumbed to the heat yesterday, bringing the eastern section's toll to 11.

Pittsburgh and vicinity had double that number as two more drownings and nine heat fatalities were reported, bringing the district's total to 22.

Home Loan Bank. The entire law would be administered by the federal home loan bank board. Members of the board shall be directors of the home owners mortgage corporation.

The corporation will have a capital stock of $200,000,000 to be provided by the treasury, and it can issue $2,000,000,000 in bonds to finance homes. The word "homes," as finally defined includes four-family dwellings.

The board can also assist in forming federal savings and loan associations, designed to provide home owners' aid. An appropriation of $100,000,000 is carried for subscription to capital stock in the associations.

With the federal home loan bank system in operation, administration officials are hopeful that they can put the new mortgage relief plan into operation speedily.

General instructions to home owners are expected to issue within a week after the bill becomes law.

Indiana County Man Is Suicide

(International News Service)

BLAIRSVILLE, Pa., June 10.—After threatening to kill his son Harry, 19, for returning home from Cambria county reforestation camp, John T. Jennings, 63, today committed suicide in his home in Black Lick, near here, by firing a shotgun charge through his chest.

Coroner F. W. St. Clair reported that Jennings had for several years threatened his family, often forcing them to take refuge in neighbors' homes. He had frequently told his family of intentions of killing himself, the coroner said.

Jennings had been unemployed for several years.

The old familiar roller towel now may be of paper, which can be used to dry the hands, and also to be used for wetting surfaces; to drain foods cooked in deep fat, and in many other ways.

Mrs. Carl Albertino, who underwent an operation in New Castle hospital, has been removed to her home on Beckford street.

GRADUATES FETED IN BAPTIST CHURCH

The Teachers Training class of the First Baptist church sponsored a lovely affair Friday evening when 18 graduates of the New Castle high school, members of the '33 class, were honored at a banquet.

The tables were arranged in a U and the center was filled with palms while a color scheme of green and white was cleverly carried out in the table decorations. At each place was a miniature diploma, tied with the class colors, and when these were unrolled it was found they were the programs of the evening.

Mrs. S. J. Callahan introduced the toastmistress of the evening, Miss Florence Jenkins, a teacher in high school, who most graciously presided and gave a splendid talk to the graduates.

The toast to the graduates was given by William Hammond, who was graduated from Moody Bible institute a few weeks ago; the response was made by Adrian Heaton, one of the high school graduates. Gladys Woodruff gave a talk on "What We Expect From the World" and Mary Brown talked on "What the world expects From You", and while seated at the table, invocation was asked by Rev. C. H. Heaton, who also addressed a short talk to the grads.

Concluding the table program the groups went to the church parlors, where the orchestra of the Sunday school played several selections.

Jesse McClelland and James Callahan had a violin duet; a clever sketch, "How the Average Person Reads the Newspaper," was given by Virginia Callahan and Adrian Heaton; Marjory Powell added enjoyment with a banjo number; Jane Magee did her bit with a reading; James Callahan had a violin solo and the orchestra closed the program with a number.

During the evening Mrs. David Nesbitt presided over the punch bowl. The decorations were arranged by Thelma Kramer and Thelma Heath.

The success of the event was due to the perfect planning of Mary Brown, Charlotte Barbour, Mary Rankin, Sarah Dandy, Mrs. Lee Sappington, Mrs. Leonard Dandy and Mrs. Gladys Woodruff.

County Commissioner P. O. Elder and Poor Director M. B. Hogue returned this morning from Coatesville, Pa., after having transferred Samuel Lebits, a Polish soldier whom the county has been keeping at Warren hospital, to the Soldiers' hospital at Coatesville.

The county will be relieved of any further expense, which has been considerable, as the man has been kept by the county at Warren for nearly six years. Efforts have been made to get him into the Coatesville soldiers' hospital for some time, as his mental condition has been getting better.

Elder and Hogue drove 493 miles yesterday, and in view of the heat, were pretty well fatigued. They started home Friday evening and slept at a camp in the mountains near Bedford last night, making the trip from there to New Castle this morning.

SUICIDES AND THE DEPRESSION

STATISTICS just brought to light indicate that there has been a sharp increase in suicides in this country as a result of the financial and industrial depression.

Approximately 23,000 took their lives last year, compared with 20,088 in 1931. Curiously enough, the rate among the divorced is higher than in any other class. This probably means that domestic infelicity added to business trouble was too much for the victims.

These figures, gathered by Dr. Frederick L. Hoffman and published in the Spectator, furnish food for thought. Dr. Hoffman expresses the belief that "there is need in every large city of a consulting office, giving advice to would-be suicides. The situation imperatively demands drastic social interference if a much more substantial rise to higher figures is to be avoided."

The plain truth of the matter is that we need more religion in every-day life. It is a glorious thing to be a skeptic when the sun is shining and prosperity is at its height; but that kind of philosophy is cold and bare when adversity comes into the picture. The man with faith usually has the fortitude that is needed in the face of sorrow or poverty. His belief gives him the courage to go ahead in spite of obstacles. This is denied the materialist who lives only for the day. The rising tide of suicides is decidedly not a cause for congratulation.

ILL WILL CAUSED

That the popular demand for less advertising on the air is gaining in volume can not be doubted by anyone, who follows this subject closely. It is a reasonable conclusion that the slump in sales of receiving sets reflects, in a large part, public ill will caused by the great amount of advertising that continually pours through the ether, and its jarring effects upon listeners following some particularly interesting program.

This point is emphasized by Richard H. Mercer in an article in Real America. Asserting that printed advertising is preferred by the public and that this kind of advertising is more beneficial to the advertiser than radio advertising, he continues: "Our common experience is to look over newspaper ads with a friendly feeling toward the advertiser. We feel that he is entitled to his space in which to deliver his message, which he does in an honest and decorous manner without trying to put anything over on us. His methods are non-fraudulent. He doesn't force his propaganda. We are therefore kindly disposed to him. We are friends."

In other words, good will is built up. But the opposite effect often is the case with radio advertising. "Hostility is not to be wondered at," says the writer, on this point. "Could anything in the world be more irritating than getting comfortably settled in your favorite chair and preparing to listen to the Fifth Hungarian rhapsody, and then having some stentorian brass-bound voice barge in with a lot of blather about Slather-up shaving cream?"

Most radio listeners will agree that very few things could be more irritating than such an experience as this, which is of frequent occurrence. It necessarily leaves a bad taste in the mouth of the listener for the product so advertised. It creates ill will, and ill will is something no manufacturer cares to encounter.

Self-defense eventually may force radio advertisers to abandon the air medium. There is no doubt that the public is fed up on air advertising.

THE BUSINESS GIRL'S IDEAL EMPLOYER

Students in three business schools for girls, in New York, Providence and Boston, have been voting on the ideal employer. In all three Mr. Noel Coward headed the list—perhaps because they have seen "Cavalcade." Other favorites were Owen D. Young, who won second place; Mrs. August Belmont, Alfred E. Smith and Norman Davis. It does not appear upon what grounds in general their choices were based. Probably in most cases the ideal was in their own minds. It is hard to tell what an employer is like until one has worked for him.

More interesting, on the whole, is the kind of positions they wished to fill. The majority preferred to be secretary to the president of a large corporation. Such an ambition is laudable, but it can hardly be realized without some years of drudgery in the ranks of undistinguished stenographers. Many looked to the diplomatic service; many others to a bank. Others still wished to head their own business. It is well to have an ideal, however little chance there may be of attaining it. But no doubt most of the girls, when they graduate, will be content to fill comparatively humble posts—if they can get them. Some may even marry.

THAT LOAN TO CHINA

Why lend to China to buy our wheat after all the experience of lending to Europe in war time and afterwards? That is a pertinent question.

Perhaps it was a blunder. But there are certain points of difference. The Chinese are an old nation, accustomed to debt-paying even unto the third and fourth generation. They need the wheat, and if it were not sold to them on credit, we should probably feel obliged, in the end, to give it to them. Feeding the hungry always was a wise move, whether in Asia or America. And we do not need the wheat.

That is to say, we turn over to them something we are better off without, something they sorely need. We take a chance that they will pay for it.

It would be just like the Chinese to surprise everybody by doing so, to the last penny.

NEW BLOW TO KIDNAPING

Good police work was represented in the quick arrest of supposed members of the kidnapping gang that abducted the daughter of the business manager of Kansas City and held her until a $30,000 ransom was paid.

Six suspects were taken into custody. These and two others, still sought, have been indicted by a federal grand jury. Two of those held have made confessions, which the authorities believe solve the crime.

Two things remain to make this case a blow to crime that will be felt throughout the underworld: Prompt trial and infliction of the extreme penalty upon those convicted.

The kidnapping industry flourished for a while and seemed to have things largely its own way. But the tables now are being turned. A recent case in the East and the Missouri case indicate the authorities are beginning to find ways of coping with the situation.

All Of Us

BY MARSHALL MASLIN

WHO ARE YOU?
YOU CAN find out. You can go exploring and discover yourself. It's not difficult. You know how it is. Sometimes you live along for days and weeks and months, almost mechanically, just doing the things that must be done, not more than half alive, a stranger to yourself. . . . And then you wake up. Suddenly you see yourself differently. . . . You're not just an automaton. You're real, you human. You're somebody after all. You think you feel. You are ALIVE. You have ideas, ideals and you live by them.

People mean something to you. You like them or you don't like them. You trust them or you fear them. You like being in a crowd or you prefer being alone. People are part of your gang, or you are a lone wolf.

Money has a meaning for you. It's important to it, or it's something you use to buy things. You'd do anything. You envy other people their money, or you see them entirely separate from your possessions.

Security is important to you. Or it isn't. You want to be safe, no matter what price you pay for your safety. You don't like uncertainty. Or you like the thrill of not knowing what comes next. You want to be free and wander here and there in life, regardless of its cost.

Love is a precious thing, too. You cannot think of yourself except in relation to some dear one. Or love is just a nuisance and a torment. You are a better human being when you are in love. Or worse. Love is but a physical attraction, or it is a deepening and a glorifying of all that is best in you.

Power is your dream. You want to climb high and command. Or power never interests you at all. What you want is understanding of this life, of nature of human beings.

You are at home in this earth, in this life. Or you are restless here and dream of a home that is far away. You live easily, comfortably, or you labor desperately through the years.

Animals, flowers, and trees are merely the furniture of the planet, on which you live. Or they are like other people to you, homely or mysterious, fascinating.

God is only something that religious people talk about, or He is a part of you and part of everything you do.

And somehow, thinking of all these things, you discover yourself once and for all, forever.

OPIONATED PERSONS

Have you proven and well-founded reasons why you should consider your own judgment so nearly infallible?

It is strange that those who think their own ideas more nearly correct than the average are so often at variance with the majority.

They congratulate themselves that they are advanced thinkers, ahead of their time and so the common run of humans could not be expected to agree.

They carry their idea of superiority so far that even those who have a right to be considered equals are thought of as deficient mentally.

There is something about the opinionated person—the one who will not be convinced that he could make a mistake—that of itself indicates weakness.

Instead of creating the impression of mental strength, the opinionated person creates or arouses the opposite thought.

The one who puts his or her judgment in opposition to that of most folk should pause long enough to realize that the majority should rule and be respected—not the minority.

Should the minority come into power, as a class, insistence is made that the minority pattern should be followed without deviation, squelching initiative and with no respect for difference of opinion.

You can't rubber-stamp humanity.

HUNGER

I want to go fishing! somewhere on a stream
I want to give way to the longing to dream.

Away from the tumult of motor and mill
I want to be care-free; I want to be still.

I'm weary of doing things; weary of words
I want to be one with the blossoms and birds.

I want to push off from the river-kissed shore
Alone with my dreams and my fancies once more.

I am wearying of reading the books on my shelf
I want to be quiet and think for myself.

I've a feeling sometimes of huge things clogging me
And I want to go somewhere and set my soul free.

I want to go fishing! to sit all alone
Where only the purest of breezes are blown;

To visit in worlds that are different from ours,
The worlds of the insects, the song birds, the flowers;

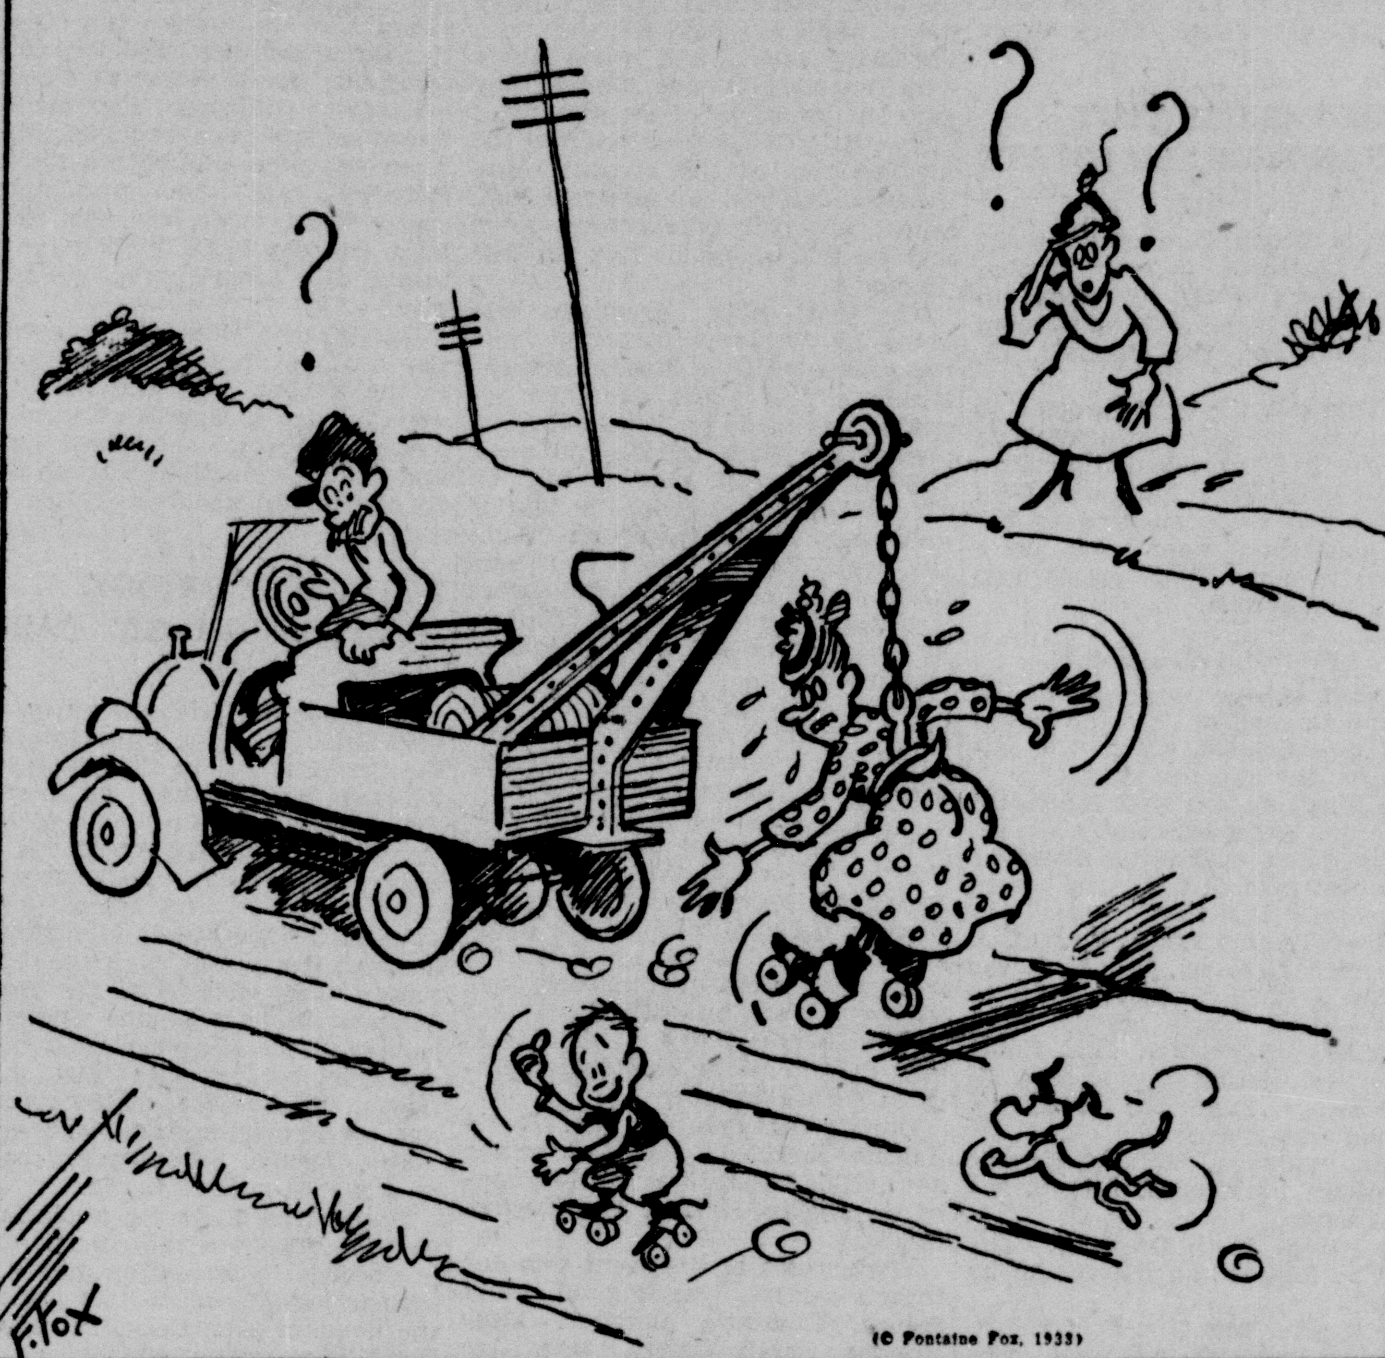

To question the skies and the waters below
And be the glad youth that I was long long ago.

The telephone bell rang in fire headquarters. The operator plugged in for the call.

"Is this the fire department?" asked a timid voice.

"Yes, that's right," replied the fireman eagerly.

"Well," continued the voice, "I've just built a new rock garden and I've just put in some new plants."

"Where's the fire?" roared the fireman.

"Some of these new plants are very expensive and—" the voice went on.

"Look here," said the fireman. "You want a flower shop."

"No, I don't," said the voice. "I was coming to that in a minute. My neighbor's house is on fire, and I don't want you clumsy firemen tramping over my garden when you come here."

Hundreds Of Children On Programs Sunday

The second Sunday of June is always given over to the observance of children's day programs in the various churches of New Castle and Sunday will be no exception for practically every church in the city has arranged for the children to take charge of one of the services, some being presented at the morning session and others in the evening.

Exercises, drills, pageantry, songs and recitations will give the younger members of the congregations the chance to show what ability there is to be developed in the future church leaders.

Most of the church programs for the children's day observance have been printed in full, but some reached the religious editor's desk too late for publication.

Salvation Army Will Seek Funds

A Tentative Budget Is Planned As A Basis On Which An Appeal Will Be Made

At a conference of representatives of the division headquarters in Pittsburgh, and members of the Advisory Board of the Salvation Army held Friday afternoon at the army headquarters, Water and South Mill streets, a tentative budget of $3,000 based on the needs of the local corps for the coming year and the payment of current indebtedness amounting to approximately $750, was approved, subject to final approval at a final meeting of the full board.

ELLWOOD CITY, June 10.—Playgrounds in Ellwood City in the future will be operated by the Board of Education according to action taken at the board's meeting in the Lincoln school Thursday night. This will also include the operation of the municipal tennis courts.

This action was taken after council had appropriated a sum of $300 for the operation but refused to supervise them and requested the school board to undertake this since the grounds belong to the school district. The board after some discussion agreed to do this.

By unanimous approval, Supt. Vaughn R. DeLong was appointed by the board as general superintendent of the playgrounds who is to cooperate with the playground commission. The commission as a result of this action has reconsidered their previous resignation and will sign up Supt. DeLong and the commission consisting of Mrs. J. C. Turner, Mrs. Catherine M. Charles, and R. G. Forbes, will meet tomorrow to complete plans for the opening of the playgrounds as soon as possible.

Statement Shows School Board's Funds Are Low

Board Hears Request Of Former Tax Collector For Ex-emption Of $971.25

ELLWOOD CITY, June 10.—A financial statement of the Ellwood City School District was submitted by Secretary G. Blaine Hancher, at the meeting of the Board of Education in the Lincoln School Thursday night. The statement was as follows:

General fund—$84.50.
Bond and Coupon fund—$21.25.
Petty Cash Fund—$150.
The board has over $12,000 in cash that has not been used yet.
Amount due on the 1932 tax duplicate for 1932 from Tax Collector E. B. Meyer is $75.03.
Amount due from former Tax Collector T. A. E. McCannony on the 1930-31 duplicates is $20,000.
Lien filed total $44,000.
Total taxes due the school district are $139,000.

The board referred a request of T. A. E. McCannony, through his attorney John P. Lockhart, for an exoneration of the amount $971.25, to the finance committee for an investigation and report. Last September the exoneration list was $887.14. The amount has grown since then.

This is on the per-capita tax levy. According to Mr. McCannony he had paid the former sum out of his own funds on the grounds that he would be able to retrieve it again by collection. After an effort the taxes were found uncollectable and he therefore is asking for an exoneration of the amount in order to regain his loss.

Church Groups Oppose Repeal

Vote At Pittsburgh To Continue Fight To Save 18th Amendment

LEGISLATORS ARE CALLED 'PUPPETS'

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, June 10.—Two important Pittsburgh church groups were on record today wholeheartedly favoring social legislation and continuance of the fight against repeal of the 18th amendment.

Capitalism was condemned as "un-Christian, unethical and anti-social" in the most liberal report ever adopted by the Pittsburgh Methodist Episcopal conference.

A program including such social legislation as child labor laws, unemployment insurance, public works programs and minimum wage laws was adopted by the conference without a dissenting vote.

While not quite so liberal in scope, the program adopted by the Pittsburgh Baptist association condemned sweatshop conditions as "contrary to the principles of Jesus" and endorsed minimum wage laws, old age pensions and child labor legislation.

Both groups were opposed to abolition of prohibition, the Presbyterians affirming their stand that alcoholic beverages are "unfit for consumption."

Mere Puppets.
The Presbyterians declared social legislation was being "defeated by legislators who are mere puppets and listed favorites of financiers and industrialists who foresee that the cost of such legislation must be placed in incomes, inheritances and other unearned increments."

Pastors were urged to interest themselves more actively in strikes and other movements seeking to better living conditions.

Another radical departure from the past was taken by the Presbyterians in advocating socialization of all medical and surgical services and such other "hygienic measures as shall tend to keep all members of society at the highest level of human efficiency."

Criminal Court To Open Next Monday

Court will convene on Monday morning for the trial of criminal cases on which the grand jury returned true bills this week. There are thirty-five cases on the list. It is expected that there will be some pleas of guilty and that the list may be shortened. As there are no very serious cases to be heard, it is believed that the docket can be pretty well cleaned up next week. There is a possibility, therefore, that the list of jurors summoned for the succeeding week may not be needed, at least not for all week.

Outside Judge To Hear Arguments In County Pay Dispute

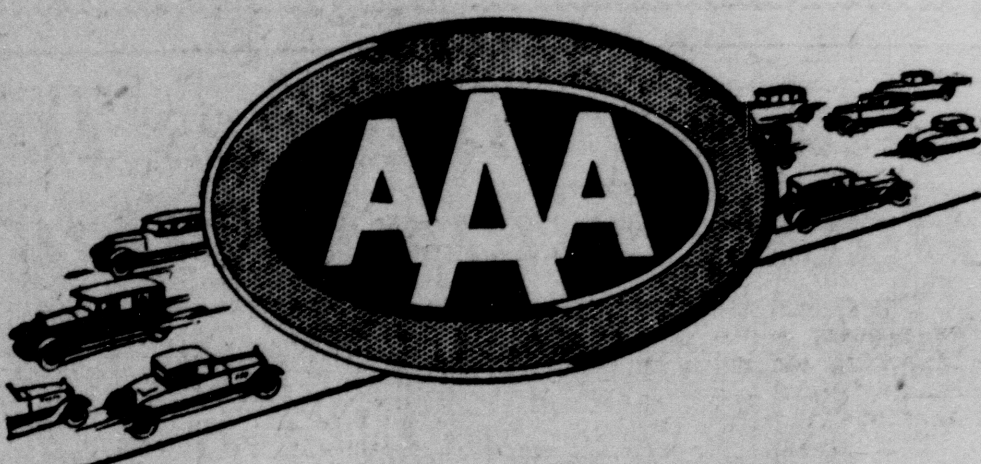

The case of the county of Lawrence against former County Commissioners Calvin Boyd and T. J. McCullough and former and present County Commissioner P. O. Elder, in which the question of pay for acting as poor directors is involved, was not argued at court this week, but will be taken up before a judge who will be brought from one of the surrounding counties. The reason for this is that Elder is related to Judge James A. Chambers and therefore the case could not be argued before the local judges en banc. The case is on the question of whether or not the commissioners are entitled to $600 per year each for acting as poor directors, in addition to their salaries of $3000 as county commissioners.

The Pennsylvania Association adopted a resolution, heartily favoring the Wagner Industry Recovery Bill and voted to use every effort to cooperate with the national government in carrying out its provisions.

The Grand Daddy of the Good Roads movement

THE American Automobile Association, world's largest federation of motor vehicle owners, has been working for local and national road improvement for more than a quarter of a century.

There are 1,046 local motor clubs affiliated with A.A.A. Each is doing its part in its own community to promote more good roads and to make present roads better and wider, just as this club is doing here.

Moreover, A.A.A. clubs make sure that main traveled roads are clearly marked; patrol them to check road conditions, detours, bridges, and repairs; and warn motorists against speed traps and other evils.

Yet, fostering the good roads movement is but one of many services A.A.A. clubs perform for motorists everywhere. Others include emergency road service, accurate up-to-the-minute touring information, free legal advice, and even foreign service if desired.

This is your local A.A.A. motor club. Join it. The small cost of a membership will be repaid many times over by the benefits you receive.

Clubs Protesting Decision Barring
License For Beer

(International News Service)

BROOKVILLE, Pa., June 10.—Judge W. T. Darr today was expected to rule on appeals by incorporated clubs of Jefferson county from the decision of the county treasurer in refusing licenses to sell beer because the treasurer contends such clubs are not bona fide eating places as provided in the licensing legislation enacted at the recent general assembly session.

Judge Darr already has granted appeals of eight individual applicants who demurred from the county treasurer's ruling that their establishments did not come within the scope of the legislation. Four other appeals were held under advisement.

In granting the appeals, the court remarked that the question at issue was solely one of legal interpretation and that the court, as an impartial tribunal, would decide the cases on their merits, regardless of opinion on the merits of drawbacks of the wet and dry question.

Dempsey Plans More Fights To Show Off Baer

Dempsey Secretly Hopes To Become Second "Tex Rickard" Of Fight Game

GARDEN MOGULS PUTTING UP HOWL

By PAT ROBINSON
International News Service Sports Writer.

NEW YORK, June 10.—As he sat back today surveying his successful promotion of the Schmeling-Baer fight, Jack Dempsey lightly envisioned himself donning the mantle doffed by the late Tex Rickard and foresaw himself as the promoter of the next million dollar gate, an almost mythical thing supposed to be as extinct as the dodo.

But if Dempsey is going to become the king of promoters, as he fondly believes, he will have to ascend the throne across the strewn forms of the Madison Square Garden corporation and its pugnaconic matchmaker, Jimmy Johnston.

War Being Waged.
A fine little promotional war is being and, if the boys run true to form, the promoters will have little to show for their effort and that famous old shock-absorber, Gus Q. Fight Fan, will be left holding the bag, a trick at which Gus has become highly efficient.

"I'm going to land the winner of the Sharkey-Carners fight for Baer," said Dempsey today. "Not a chance. I personally can land Sharkey if he wins and if the big Italian wins Dempsey can't get him because he has a contract with the Garden for one more fight."

Undaunted by this challenge, Dempsey threatened to toss Schmeling and Baer right back again in September, and said he, "we'd draw a million cocoanuts sure for every Jew in New York will want to see Baer beat him again."

Jacobs Offers Bet.

Schmeling's manager, Joe Jacobs, wants to bet me $50,000 Schmeling can lick Baer in a return bout and while I don't think Schmeling can make good any more than Joe could on the 50 grand, still I think the German is capable of a better fight than he showed Thursday night.

"If I fail to land either Sharkey or Carners for Baer I'll toss the German and Jew back in again."

Meanwhile Bashful Joe Jacobs is dickering with two Chicago promoters who want to have Schmeling fight King Levinsky, a pugilistic atrocity which, while it might add something to the gayety of nations, provided Chicagoans will fall for it, will add nothing artistically or esthetically to the fistie situation.

In the final analysis, as Uncle Joe Cannon was wont to remark, it will all narrow down to a question of dollars and cents and the boys in the fight racket usually have a way of burying personal animosity to collect the chumps' dough. The chumps, of course, in their estimation, being the fight fans.

Johnny Goodman Leads Field In National Open

Omaha Golfer Shoots Sensational Golf, Gets 66 For 18 Holes

TOMMY ARMOUR IN SECOND PLACE

By DAVIS J. WALSH
International News Service Sports Editor.

CHICAGO, June 10.—They're ready to make their stretch-run this morning in this most amazing of national open golf championships, where course records are neatly and quickly done while you wait. And it is to be distinctly understood that the management is not responsible for performances left over 24 hours. Moreover, it is not the one-man race it started out to be at the end of the first round. Not even the same man is doing the running this morning.

Yesterday, for instance, it was Thomas D. Armour, the product of Lothian Burn, Edinburgh university and the great American check book, with his course record of 68 and his five-stroke lead.

Johnny Goodman, the amateur whom the golf association would spurn if it could. John is the commoner from Omaha who was born on the wrong side of the trolley line.

He also was playing on the wrong side of normalcy yesterday. First, Armour beat the course record by one stroke. Then Goodman beat Armour by two, a 32-34-66, that equaled Sarazen's all-time, all-course record at Fresh Meadow last year and included five birdies, two others that should have been but weren't; 11 pars, one buzzard and an eagle.

Armour is Second.
He sank a 25-yard approach shot to get the latter at the par-5 15th. He almost got another at the 18th. Only once did par defeat him. Once again when it seemed as though it might, he knocked down a 20-foot putt.

As a result, the order of preference as they go into the final 36 holes today, morning and afternoon rounds, runs like this:

Goodman, 141. Armour 143. Joe Kirkwood 144. Olin Dutra 146. Ralph Guldhall and Craig Wood 147. Morde Dutra and T. Philip Perkins 148. MacDonald Smith, Leo Diegel, Abe Espinosa, Maurice McCarthy, Walter Hagen, Johnny Revolta and Paul Runyan 149.

Add a few slices of raw orange to the breakfast prunes for a change. Two stewed fruits, such as prunes and apricots, also are delicious for breakfast.

The American Indians did not have horses before the arrival of Europeans upon this continent.

Having covered the Schmeling-Baer fight for the Post-Gazette, Harvey Boyle in his follow-up story today writes: "Schmeling was just as good as he ever was the other night. It was because Baer was so much better that the Teuton appeared to have lost some of his stuff. Schmeling found that hitting Baer solidly was the hardest job he ever tackled and that taking Baer's punches was altogether different from the puncher he took from Sharkey, Stribling and Walker."

Seeking his second successive major victory, C. V. Whitney's The Darb, winner of the Withers mile, today will match speed against nine other picked colts in the $25,000 added Belmont stakes at Belmont park.

The goat—Pat Malone, Cubs, was knocked out of the box as Cubs lost to Cardinals again.

With mid-summer heat prevailing and the courses in excellent condition, players in the New Castle golf league got down to business Thursday evening and some interesting matches were played.

Grommes, Mancine and Gilliland shot under 40. Gilliland turning in a 36 and the other two 37s. "Ki" Eakin, Murdoch, "Bill" Nunn, Molesworth had 40s. Fred Leslie a 41, Ed Long a 42 and "Babe" Clark, Dave Kay, Ingals and Jimmy Geddes each a 43.

The results of play were as follows:
East Side S. S. 5, Black-McJunkin 1; Shenango Tin 4, Pennsylvania R. 2; Reynolds, Summers & McCann 4, Pennsylvania Power 2; Blair Strip Steel 4, New Castle News 2; Gersons 4 1/2, Legion of Honor 1 1/2; Universal Sanitary Pottery 5, Bell Telephone 1.

The league standing and schedule for next week will be announced Monday.

Next: Run-Up Shot.

Correct to bring clubhead back "outside" line of flight for lofted shots, "inside" for all other shots. ALEX. MORRISON says:

So much has been said about swinging from the "inside out" that the average golfer thinks all clubs should be taken back inside the intended line of flight.

If in playing a mashie-niblick, or a niblick, the clubhead in moving upward does not at the same time move outside the line of flight, the player doesn't stand much chance of getting the required amount of loft in the flight of his ball.

Of course, this same arc, if followed when using clubs other than the above named, will produce a cut shot or a slice but with lofted clubs swinging from the "outside in" is a decided help in raising the ball.

SHOW GIRL TO BE BAER'S BRIDE?

June Knight, New York musical comedy star, may become the next bride of Max Baer, heavyweight title contender, according to reports current along Broadway. Current divorce proceedings are expected soon to sever Max and the present Mrs. Baer—Dorothy Dunbar Wells DeGaron Baer.

Midget Wolgast Gets In Trouble In Detroit Ring

World's Flyweight Champion Quits Ring In Detroit, Loses Fight, And Purse

(International News Service)
DETROIT, June 10.—Midget Wolgast of Philadelphia, recognized as world's flyweight champion in some states, was in plenty of trouble today as the result of the unsatisfactory outcome of his scheduled 10-round bout last night with Britt Gorman of Minneapolis.

Objecting to Gorman's butting tactics, which injured his eye, Wolgast quit in the sixth round. Referee Elmer McClelland gave the fight to Gorman on a technical knockout and announced Wolgast would not receive his share of the purse. The crowning blow came when James M. (Bingo) Brown, president of the National Boxing association and state boxing commissioner, announced the N. B. A. would bar Wolgast from Michigan rings and would attempt to have him barred in states where his title is recognized.

Having covered the Schmeling-Baer fight for the Post-Gazette, Harvey Boyle in his follow-up story today writes: "Schmeling was just as good as he ever was the other night. It was because Baer was so much better that the Teuton appeared to have lost some of his stuff. Schmeling found that hitting Baer solidly was the hardest job he ever tackled and that taking Baer's punches was altogether different from the puncher he took from Sharkey, Stribling and Walker."

Seeking his second successive major victory, C. V. Whitney's The Darb, winner of the Withers mile, today will match speed against nine other picked colts in the $25,000 added Belmont stakes at Belmont park.

Foxx Hits His Fifth Homer As Athletics Lose

Tony Lazzeri Lams Out Homer That Gives Yanks Game At 7 To 6

FOXX CAN BREAK ALL-TIME RECORD

By LES CONKLIN
International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, June 10.—Jimmy Foxx, big gunner of the Athletics, is one ball player who would just as soon see the weather stay hot. The sun's blistering rays have softened opposing pitchers to such an extent that Jimmy has tied two home run records this week and threatens to eclipse Babe Ruth's feat of hitting 60 homers for the season. He almost turned the trick last year when he hit 58.

On Wednesday and Thursday, Foxx tied an all-time record and set a new modern mark by blasting homers in four consecutive times at bat. His homer against the Yankees yesterday tied another record—five circuit clouts in three successive games—and put him in a triple tie with Ruth and Lou Gehrig for the lead in the home run derby. Each has 12.

Yankees Win
Four-baggers by Gehrig and Tony Lazzeri, each coming with two on base, more than offset Jimmy's blow. Lazzeri's homer, his tenth of the year, came in the eighth inning and gave New York a 7 to 6 verdict.

The heat took heavy toll. Walter Brown, New York's 225-pound hurler, collapsed in the dugout, and Jim Peterson, who started for the A's, passed out after pitching to only one batter. Peterson's successor, Rube Walberg, was pasted to a fare-thee-well.

With the aid of Manager Joe Cronin, who lined out three hits, Earl Whitehill pitched Washington to a 7 to 2 win over the Red Sox.

Luke Appling's homer in the 14th enabled the Chicago White Sox to take a ten to nine slugfest from Detroit, after the Sox had staged a five-run rally to knot the count in the ninth. Swanson led the Sox attack with four hits and Al Simmons got three, including a homer. The Tigers had won six straight.

Malone Derricked
The St. Louis Cardinals wrested the National League lead from the idle New York Giants by slaughtering Chicago, 12 to 2. The Cards knocked out Pat Malone in the third inning while Tex Carleton went the route for the winners and chalked up his seventh victory of the year.

Frank Frisch and Pepper Martin led the attack, Frisch blasting two doubles and a triple and Pep collecting two doubles and a single.

Pirates Win
The Cards have won 16 of their last 19 starts.

The heat didn't bother Steve Swetonic of the Pirates. Steve held Cincinnati to six hits and gained a 2 to 0 decision over Paul (one punch) Derringer. Vaughn's triple drove in the first run. It was Honus Wagner day in Pittsburgh. There was a parade, an old timer's ball game and a purse of $1500 for Honus.

Other clubs were not scheduled.

New Uprush In Stock Market

Flood Of Buying Pours Into Market—Utilities Are Feature

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, June 10.—Passage of the industrial recovery bill by the Senate which opened the possibility that Congress would adjourn by tonight brought another uprush in the stock market today.

A flood of buying, with blocks running to 15,000 shares, poured over the list at the opening and sent the list up 1 to 4 points. Auburn and Armour preferred led the rise. The ticker fell behind immediately.

Tremendous profit-taking developed on the bulge and kept the market from running away.

Utilities were the feature as the session wore on in the hope Congress would adjourn. Consolidated yesterday led the group to new highs with a spurt of nearly 3 points in huge dealings.

Strength in commodities provided an added bullish stimulus. Wheat and other grains spurred a cent a bushel and more, reflecting the poor crop prospect revealed in the official government report late yesterday. Cotton rose more than 50 cents a bale.

Helping the bulls were the expectation of a good rail traffic report later in the day and the prediction that the U. S. Steel unfilled tonnage report at noon would show a sizeable increase.

The rails, depressed by a series of adverse developments earlier in the week, showed rallying tendencies under the leadership of N. Y. Central, Lackawanna, Atchison and Delaware and Hudson.

DR. FREEMAN RESIGNS AS COLLEGE DEAN

Will Devote All His Time To
Chemistry Department
Which He Heads

DR. CHARLES FREEMAN

(Special To The News)
NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., June
10.—Dr. Charles Freeman, a member of the Westminster College faculty since 1924, has tendered his resignation as dean of the college to take effect next fall. Dr. Freeman, head of the chemistry department, will devote all his time to his instructional work.
Dr. Freeman has been at Westminster for 39 years, and has been dean for 25 years. He has twice been acting president of the college, his last term in this office being from 1931 to 1932.
A successor to Dr. Freeman as

Swick Assails Veterans Cuts

Tells Congress Policy Of Administration Is Unjust—
Assails Forest Project

By ARTHUR C. WIEBER
Special Washington Correspondent
WASHINGTON, June 10.—Speaking in the house Representative J.
Howard Swick bitterly condemned the president for making "paupers" of Spanish-American war veterans and for "injustices" to service connected world war veterans.

Swick denied any tax increase would be necessary to provide full compensation for service-connected veterans.

He pointed out that in the consideration of the economy bill the president promised "the veterans would be treated justly, fairly and humanely." He declared congress was determined to correct injustices to veterans before it adjourned and said if any curtailment is necessary Roosevelt should make it in his forestation expenditures.

Congressman Swick cited the case of William O. Coulter disabled veteran as an example of the injustices perpetrated under the economy bill. The congressman declared the administration throughout the press and over the air is attempting to justify the unfair, unjust and unmerciful treatment of veterans by appealing to the public in the name of balancing the budget and waving the danger signal of increased taxes. Is it not strange that no dangers of that kind were thought of when it was determined to pay more than a quarter of a million healthy young men none of whom were old enough to have served in time of war $30 per month and furnish them with expensive toilet kits and all necessities of life to go through the motions of reforestation.

It caused no straining of the budget to loan $50,000,000 to the Chinese government which in all probability will never be repaid. In order that these things could be done the administration is attempting to convince the public that it is justified in throwing thousands of veterans who are suffering from disability incurred in the defense of their country upon the relief rolls of their communities to become subjects of charity while their nephews brave the dangers of the forest camps.
